

PRIVACY POLICY

We are updating our privacy policy, in line with the new EU General Data Protection Regulation, which comes into force on 25th May 2018. This will inform you of how your data is used, or collected, for your peace of mind, to safeguard your data, and protect your privacy.

Put simply, firstly this website does not track or record your movements, since 'Google Analytics' is not enabled here.

Secondly no cookies are used by this website to monitor your internet behaviour.

Thirdly, this website does not store your personal information. Payment platforms such as 'PayPal' and 'Gumroad', are responsible for processing any payments you make, for the services offered here, and for eBooks purchased from this site.

All subscribers to our monthly newsletter, will have their email addresses collected by 'Mailchimp'. Every newsletter has an unsubscribe link at the bottom of it, should you wish to opt out of receiving them at any time.

Lastly, we are reliably informed that PayPal, Gumroad, Mailchimp, and our booking software company, Acuity, are all GDPR compliant. Thank you....